Comments

The Bianco Secco Veneto IGP from the traditional Quintarelli winery is made from a careful cuvée of different grape varieties from vines that are around 30 years old. These thrive on mineral-rich soils and are cultivated according to sustainable principles, using organic and environmentally friendly methods. The grapes are only harvested by hand when perfectly ripe in order to maximise their quality and aromatic potential.

Pairing

Dancing, uncomplicated aperitif wine, also delicious with antipasti or light fish dishes.

Tasting notes

Quintarelli's Bianco Secco Veneto IGP is an expressive white wine with a youthful freshness. A complex bouquet of citrus fruit, yellow apple, apricot and nectarine unfolds on the nose, accompanied by subtle hints of exotic fruit and a subtle honey note. On the palate, it impresses with a smooth, almost silky texture, which is supported by a fine saline note and a balanced acidity structure. The interplay of fruit and minerality leads to a long, elegant finish that allows the wine's freshness to linger wonderfully.
