Comments

A great wine is a project that must first be born in the mind and then gradually becomes a reality through knowledge, creativity, care and patience," says Luigi Moio owner of the Quintodecimo winery and professor of oenology and aromatics at the University of Naples. This Aglianico presents itself with a complex bouquet (plums, chocolate notes), a dense body with present, fine-grained tannins and a well-integrated acidity. The wine can be stored for several years without any problems.

Pairing

An impressive and refined accompaniment for festive dishes with red meat, rich side dishes and culinary highlights of Italian cuisine. Ideal with sophisticated grilled or pan-fried meat dishes and adds an inspiring touch to special moments, even when enjoyed on its own.

Tasting notes

---

Seductive on the nose. Elegant character, soft and fruity even in early years. Flavor of plum with hints of violet and dried rose petals. Spicy finish, long and complex with silky tannins.
