Comments

wine that celebrates the connection between the Mediterranean and the world and tells the story of Ludovico and the Mediterranean dream. It does it as only a great wine can do, thanks to the union of Catarratto, the emblem of Sicilian white wines, and Chardonnay, one of the most famous and widely cultivated grape varieties in the world. White like the Cretto, white like peace, white like beauty. White like the hat that Ludovico used to wear, white like purity.

Pairing

Goes well with many Mediterranean dishes, such as cous cous, grilled fish, oysters and shellfish

Tasting notes

Bright yellow color with greenish reflections A bouquet with Mediterranean and international touches introduces white-fleshed fruits such as plum, apple and pineapple and slight hints of flint, which will intensify as it develops in the bottle. Rich on the palate, where roundness and complexity are combined with minerals Notes are well integrated.
