Comments

Lambrusco is a sparkling red wine produced mainly in the Italian wine-growing region of Emilia Romagna. Like the majority of wines from this region, Lambrusco has a long tradition with rural roots.

Pairing

The ideal accompaniment to sausage products such as salami or mortadella, to raw ham, but also fantastic with pasta such as cappelletti, tortellini, lasagne or stuffed pumpkin ravioli.

Tasting notes

Intense ruby red in the glass. Clear nuances of fresh red berries, strawberries, raspberries and cherries on the nose. Dry and fruity on the palate, round, fresh, lively and extremely harmonious. The Lambrusco Reggiano Concerto shows a perfect balance of acidity and tannins.
