Comments

The white Nemorino is composed in equal parts of two complementary grape varieties: the Trebbiano Toscano, which guarantees excellent acidity and freshness even in the warmest vintages, and the Semillon, which gives the blend the aromatic complexity that the Trebbiano lacks.

Tasting notes

Wine of great freshness and complexity, straw yellow with green reflections. The olfactory profile is dominated by a bouquet of white flowers, such as cheese forest and wild rose, with notes of acacia honey. In the mouth it is fruity with aromas of apple and tropical fruits. The finish is long due to its acid structure and leaves a tasty and mineral taste.
