Comments

Terre Brune has been the flagship and prestige wine of Cantina Santadi for decades and has been showered with awards. Of course, this wine also receives the most attention because the oenologist for it is also the most famous of all Italian star oenologists, the famous Giacomo Tachis.

Pairing

Excellent with well-seasoned roasts, grilled meat, game with herbs and herb cheese.

Tasting notes

The bouquet is a unique interplay of dark berries, raw meat and the finest dark chocolate. At the moment it only opens up on the palate when combined with a good steak. The beef absorbs some of the tannin, making the wine more approachable and aromatic. It has an incredibly firm, taut structure and is bursting with strength.
