Tasting notes

Peat smoke and malt characterize the aroma of Islay Single Scotch. Such unusual, stimulating nuances as smoked ham, oysters with lemon and vinegar based on red wine resonate. The taste of the incomparable Kilchoman Machir Bay Whiskey shines with bittersweet spice, oak, toffee and dark chocolate. The tones of black pepper, aniseed and peat offer an interesting contrast. The very long-lasting, salty finish completes the positive overall impression. In terms of complexity and sophistication, the premium whiskey can hardly be surpassed.
